

The week on one page

Objective: consistent posting you can keep up. You batch ahead, live clips come from the day itself, photos land weekly, videos land weekly from the weekend. Judge slots on saves, shares and watch-through, not likes.

On top of the fixed story slots: minimum one story a day, picked from the menu on page 3.

The three rules

- Never miss the five. Mon to Fri grid, every week. Weekend grid stays off so there is never a slot you can't fill.
- No photo twice on the grid within 14 days.
- One story a day minimum, any pick from the reactive menu.

Key dates

- Fri 21 Aug PL opener (Arsenal v Coventry) in Friday hours
- Sat 22 Aug first full PL Saturday, 3pm + 5:30 KOs
- Mon 31 Aug bank holiday, VENUE OPEN 2pm: treat as a Saturday
- Sat 26 Sep season close: last-chance framing from 14 Sep

The Monday batch ritual (about 90 minutes, sets up the whole week)

1 Chelsea's line-up lands, chase by 2pm if not. Build Tuesday's What's On. 2 Cut the recap from the weekend videos, post 7pm tonight. 3 Pick Thursday's 6 to 8 photos, lead with the best laugh. 4 Pick Friday's trend and Wednesday's post. 5 Schedule the lot. The rest of the week is stories and the trend edit only.

The five slots, with options

Monday · Recap montage

Cut from the videos that arrive after each weekend. 15 to 30 clips, one trending audio, cuts on the beat, under 20 seconds. End on the busiest wide. Caption sells the coming Friday, not the past: "Round two this Friday. Doors 5pm." Fallback if a week's video is thin: photo-montage reel from the photographer set, same audio trick. Never skip the slot, downgrade it.

Tuesday · What's On carousel

Chelsea sends acts, offers and screenings. Slide 1 is always a photo with the weekend's headline over it, then one slide per thing, closing slide = doors times + book link. If nothing special is on: doors, DJ, drinks, food, done. Keep a saved template so this is 15 minutes.

Wednesday · Flexible, pick one

|------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Drinks hero     | One drink, one photo, one cheeky line. The orange garnish, the frozen pour, the glowing pint. Fastest post that exists.               |
| Repost winner   | Rerun or remix the best performer of the last fortnight. Top carousel slide as a single, or the recap that got shares.                |
| Photo single    | One standout photographer shot, minimal caption. The laugh, the hug, the overhead.                                                    |
| Announce        | Anything Chelsea flags midweek: an act, an offer, a screening. Takes priority over the menu when it exists.                           |
| Staff or vendor | The bartender pull, the till smile, the food truck. Faces build regulars.                                                             |
| Throwback       | Opening night, the first sunny Saturday, "three months of this". Works late-season.                                                   |
| Kinda chic      | One-off: the rendered eight-slide carousel runs on ONE Wednesday, once. The rest of the set stays banked as emergency content. |

Thursday · Last week's photos

6 to 8 from the weekly delivery. Lead with the best laugh. Deliberately include the mixed-age tables, they are the warmest shots and the crowd that books. Caption tags the night: "Saturday, you were great." Encourage tags, this is the saves-and-shares post.

Friday · Trend reel

You find and watch the shortlist. Bank anything adaptable in a saved folder (swipe file), then make the week's pick. When no live trend fits, pull from the queue:

- The CCTV creature teaser (AI, stunt)
- Why people come / why people stay split screen
- The brightness-slider reveal
- Drink · Vibes · Food three-beat loop
- Empty yard to full yard, same frame
- Blind pour challenge with staff
- The glasses-wipe drink reveal
- "You're invited btw" pinned-line montage

The reactive story menu

Minimum one a day, any category, whatever exists that day. Nothing here is scheduled, that is the point. Screenshot this page.

| CATEGORY                   | READY PROMPTS                                                                                                               |
|----------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Weather check       | Sun's out: dancing clip + "you know where to be" + doors sticker. Grey day: "the forecast says Friday's fine, book anyway." |
| Updates             | This week's acts · new drink on the bar · food truck this weekend · anything Chelsea flags.                                 |
| Entry policy        | 18+, ID, door times, table vs walk-in, group size. One clean text story, re-post it every few weeks and before big nights.  |
| DJ / music          | Clip of the decks or sax · "who's on this Friday" name-drop · guess-the-song from a 2 second clip.                          |
| Whole space         | Slow pan of the empty yard in the morning · the festoon lights coming on · overhead at peak. The room is the star.          |
| Drinks              | The pour, the garnish, the frozen tap, condensation macro. One drink per story, no menus.                                   |
| Funny captions      | A normal clip with a caption doing the work: "the table that said one drink, an hour ago" · "sax man's third lap".          |
| Clips as-is         | Anything real from the camera roll, posted raw. No edit, no caption if it doesn't need one. Rough beats absent.             |
| Behind the scenes   | Setup before doors, the keg change, chalkboard being written, the cocktail build, sound check. The venue waking up.         |
| Booking nudges      | Booking-link sticker over a busy clip · "Friday tables going" midweek · group booking reminder Monday.                      |
| People / UGC        | Reshare every tag and mention (standing rule) · repost customer stories · staff intro when someone new starts.              |
| Countdowns / events | Countdown sticker to Friday doors · PL fixtures · bank holiday Monday · season close weekend.                               |

Thursday poll bank (fixed slot, real decisions only)

Sax or DJ this Saturday? · Spritz or pint first? · Friday or Saturday this week? · Watching the match here or suffering at home? (from 21 Aug) · Question box: what should the DJ open with?

Parked for later, worth revisiting once the rhythm holds: interactive sticker games, regulars corner, contrast pairs, DJ takeovers, UGC contest, collab reels with acts.

Live night story card

Whoever has the phone on the night: six stories minimum, in this order. Shoot vertical, sound on, tag the @merchants.yard location.

1 Doors. Friday 5pm / Saturday 2pm. A clip of the gate or the first pour + "doors open" text + location sticker.

2 First drinks. Tap pour or a cocktail build, close up, 5 seconds.

3 First tables in. The yard filling up. Never film anyone close-up without a nod.

4 The act. DJ arriving, sound check, sax first lap. Name-tag them if they have an account.

5 Peak. The busiest wide you can get, benches full, lights on. This is the money story.

6 Last call / lights. "Same again tomorrow" (Fri) or "back Friday" (Sat).

Do

- Vertical, steady, 5 to 10 seconds a clip
- Sound on for music moments
- Reshare anything guests tag us in
- More often is fine, six is the floor

Don't

- No flash, no filters, no stickers over faces
- Nobody visibly drunk, ever
- No close-ups without a quick yes
- Don't delete flat stories, the run matters

Why it matters

Saturday's clips become Monday's recap post, and the recap sells next Friday. Six rough clips a night keep the whole week fed. Have everything in one place by Sunday evening, it feeds Monday's recap.
